

Dear all,

Please find attached the Answers to Friday's Quiz on Money, and today's "Words" Quiz, answers to which I will send out on Friday.

As of next week - week commencing 6th July - with even more restrictions being lifted I will only be sending out TWO Quizzes a week as some of the events and activities I have been unable to do for fourteen plus weeks are gradually restarting. I hope this is the case for you although any form of group face to face meetings seem unlikely until things change even more.

My current intention is to continue sending out two Quizzes per week for the remainder of July as I know some of you who may be in the higher risk category for catching Covid 19 are still continuing to self-isolate as per Government advice. Like the Government I will then review.....

Hope you all have a good week - keep safe, keep healthy and keep sane!

Peter.
